You're in good company.

On our website's "Find a Lawyer" page, you will see just some of the dozens of lawyers who have appeared on Law Journal Television and in special projects.

But there are others who have joined us--members of the Judiciary, the medical community, elected officials and others trust us to produce balanced programming with collegial interaction. We consider it an honor that these esteemed individuals join our programming and special projects--agreeing to be on a live broadcast with attorneys is not an everyday occurrence for Judges, physicians, and elected officials.
